No business of the government exists in importance, and the public is not informed. From the start it has been self-sufficient, and now has an unexpected balance to its credit of about $2,500,000. This money is the result of the large tax revenue of the patents which protect their inventions. The business of the patent office increased two thousand per cent.

Catching Affairs.

In a difficulty between Mr. Wm. N. Pace and a young man named Amos Hooberry, Tuesday of last week, at the Hotel Edinburgh, in the little town of Linton, Hall, this county.—Mr. Pace received a couple of knife wounds, a forearm, neck, and shoulder, a serious wound in the left arm, and the other, the shoulder, which is his hired hand, of circulating false reports about him in the neighborhood, and the young man, who even went so far as to impugn the veracity of his accuser. This proved too much for Mr. Pace, who, in a fit of rage, shot a hungry hen onto a June bug, and began knocking him around the room at a lively rate. It is to the credit of Mr. Pace, to the argument of cold steel, indicating a cut an inch and a half in length on the left breast of his antagonist, that he did not, and the second blow, hitting his nose, "from comb to cove." A little loss of blood, but a remarkable feat of self-preservation which has been distinguished. Note well, the "protest man at the barbershop," was the only one to receive a cut.

NORTON SCHOOLHOUSE.

The snow has at last melted away, after lying on the ground during the month of January, and oh, the beautiful mud now!

The farmers have kept up a pretty lively wagoning for the past week hauling off their tobacco.

"Pats" did your item—uhm—uhm, "he's got a cold." Summer, as we never has his ice-house well filled.

Miss Eliza Lewis has just returned from a visit to her brother, Dr. Jas. C. Lewis, of Tip-Tops.

Mr. J. M. Wats, of Howe's Valley, has returned from his trip to Florida, where he has purchased property and intends making his home in the future.

The opposition is the fruit is all killed.

BONZ—To the wife of C. Richardson, Thursday, January 21, a boy. On the same day, to the wife of John Taber, a girl.

DUN—Sunday, January 27, near May's Grove, Hardin county, of typhoid fever, Lillie Myrtle, daughter of John W. and Eliza D. Miller. She suffered a long time, but though her condition was apparently failing, she died of malignant disease of the womb.

Wom. When death struck her, her mother tried to warm her hands.

She remarked, "Ma I don't want my hands warmed." All that could be done for an efficient physician, fond parents and many sympathizers could not save her life.

Wom. In the land of death. Her tiny son was short. Her little spirit took its flight back to God just three months and twenty-four days after its birth.

We earnestly hoped that it might be continued in this life to gladden the hearts of those who love us, but we must trust to the care you take for us. While it is all to think that the tiny hand will never move softly over a mother's face nor the bright eye cheer a father's heart in life's weary way, yet it is a happy thought that those eyes shall behold the glory of the Saviour, and those little hands gather flowers on the banks of the River Jordan.

JOE AND CLINT had a hard time at the spelling match trying to get to talk to their girl, and ANGUS had the same time they were talking to her. (No wonder the poor boys couldn't spell.) WILLEA says he wants CAROL to put a drawing in that says "I'm in love with you, CAROL, for I took her home last night."

Mr. "Rascal" Norton has returned from Minnesota, where he had been sojourning during the summer.

JIM, says "I think by this time next year I think I'll be so large I won't wear a coat." He'll have to go to a country warmer than this, poor thing.

Those boys—the tobacco barn—the dying with the tobacco barn.

CLINT. Upon my sacred word and honor I was nearly scared to death.

JIM A—Well I wasn't scared, but I felt awful curious. I tell you."

BILL N—Boys, I'd like to know what it was? It was the most terrible noise I ever heard in all my born days."

BLA—Boys, what in the world shall we do? For I believe it is the Old Boy himself, and I tell you I'm afraid of him."

It is enough to say those four boys hung by the tip top of one in all tobacco barns till the daylight, and glad to get away again.

This is loop year, and I imagine the girls will get enough seats to go to milt with the balance of their lives; the boys had better be learning how to say "no" to me! I expect a great many of them will have to say it before the year is ended, for we know the girls will be popping the question every day. Now boys, don't all say "yes"!"

What a glorious good time we had at the spelling match! And coming home was the best—if it hadn't been so awful dusty—but the dust flew only when it was drizzling a little.

Mr. Joseph Hayes had really crippled a few days ago. Did you say how? Well he rode up to town and said to Gordie to ride him back home. He said he had to ride behind him. The boy said he had to carry him very hurt, and I dare say he had got over it yet.

Jimmy, you and BILL had a hard time getting to go with your girls, don't you JIM. Next time I'd let her go by herself. I wouldn't go that far, and then have to come back by myself. His girl said she thought she would have pity on him one time more.

Where, oh! where has the "Pett" gone too?

Mr. Adam Norton contemplates going to Nebraska right soon. SWAN ALICE.

BIG SPRING.

Heed—To-day We're up on our steeds; We're up on our coaches; It's right to be bold.

The punch crop is reported killed.

Mr. George Churchill's little girl, Jane, died since our last report, of pneumonia.

Mr. John Minter, of this neighborhood, died on the 26th inst., with typho malarial fever.

Mr. Walter Kays of Sherman, Texas, is dead on account of relatives. Mr. Kay has been a member of the church.

Miss Lillie Dowd gave a very pleasant social last Saturday night. There was quite a large crowd in attendance. Miss Lillie took great pains to make all her guests have a pleasant time, in which she was remarkably successful. And, by the way, one of the young ladies called a "kid."

A. W. Mooreman has gone to Lexington to attend the commercial college at that place. Our best wishes go with this energetic young man, and may success crown every his effort.

Messrs. Will Mooreman and John Dean, of Rock Lock, spent several days here visiting relatives and friends last week.

Miss Lizzie Rawlings, a charming young lady of Brownsville, has been making several visits to the word "Home."

Mr. G. A. Moulder purchased Mr. T. B. Howard's hotel at this place for $2,300, net $2,000, as stated in our last.

Mr. James L. Talbot and Miss Ida Moulder spent several days last week visiting relatives at Elizabethtown.

Miss Lucy M. Morris, one of our charming and accomplished young ladies, will leave one day this week to visit her sister at Lebanon.

Mr. Bouteille, of Maine, has made several al ready, and is now in the process of the preparation of copies, all of which have attracted marked attention. In the details on the paper he has made a thunderous attack upon the "Society of Friends," and said, "I demand justice, for he staved the hearts of the members too deeply for that." A strong signal and popular issue was his. —Keystone R. and Stock heads with him.—[New York Sun.]

MOORMAN'S VALLEY, Norton.

Show all gone, but plenty of mud or water on the ground during the month of January, and oh, the beautiful mud now!

The farmers have kept up a pretty lively wagoning for the past week hauling off their tobacco.

"Pats" did your item—uhm—uhm, "he's got a cold." Summer, as we never has his ice-house well filled.

Miss Eliza Lewis has just returned from a visit to her brother, Dr. Jas. C. Lewis, of Tip-Tops.

Mr. J. M. Wats, of Howe's Valley, has returned from his trip to Florida, where he has purchased property and intends making his home in the future.

The opposition is the fruit is all killed.

BONZ—To the wife of C. Richardson, Thursday, January 21, a boy. On the same day, to the wife of John Taber, a girl.

DUN—Sunday, January 27, near May's Grove, Hardin county, of typhoid fever, Lillie Myrtle, daughter of John W. and Eliza D. Miller. She suffered a long time, but though her condition was apparently failing, she died of malignant disease of the womb.

Wom. When death struck her, her mother tried to warm her hands.

She remarked, "Ma I don't want my hands warmed." All that could be done for an efficient physician, fond parents and many sympathizers could not save her life.

Wom. In the land of death. Her tiny son was short. Her little spirit took its flight back to God just three months and twenty-four days after its birth.

We earnestly hoped that it might be continued in this life to gladden the hearts of those who love us, but we must trust to the care you take for us. While it is all to think that the tiny hand will never move softly over a mother's face nor the bright eye cheer a father's heart in life's weary way, yet it is a happy thought that those eyes shall behold the glory of the Saviour, and those little hands gather flowers on the banks of the River Jordan.

JOE AND CLINT had a hard time at the spelling match trying to get to talk to their girl, and ANGUS had the same time they were talking to her. (No wonder the poor boys couldn't spell.) WILLEA says he wants CAROL to put a drawing in that says "I'm in love with you, CAROL, for I took her home last night."

Mr. "Rascal" Norton has returned from Minnesota, where he had been sojourning during the summer.

JIM, says "I think by this time next year I think I'll be so large I won't wear a coat." He'll have to go to a country warmer than this, poor thing.

Those boys—the tobacco barn—the dying with the tobacco barn.

CLINT. Upon my sacred word and honor I was nearly scared to death.

JIM A—Well I wasn't scared, but I felt awful curious. I tell you."

BILL N—Boys, I'd like to know what it was? It was the most terrible noise I ever heard in all my born days."

BLA—Boys, what in the world shall we do? For I believe it is the Old Boy himself, and I tell you I'm afraid of him."

It is enough to say those four boys hung by the tip top of one in all tobacco barns till the daylight, and glad to get away again.

This is loop year, and I imagine the girls will get enough seats to go to milt with the balance of their lives; the boys had better be learning how to say "no" to me! I expect a great many of them will have to say it before the year is ended, for we know the girls will be popping the question every day. Now boys, don't all say "yes"!"

What a glorious good time we had at the spelling match! And coming home was the best—if it hadn't been so awful dusty—but the dust flew only when it was drizzling a little.

Mr. Joseph Hayes had really crippled a few days ago. Did you say how? Well he rode up to town and said to Gordie to ride him back home. He said he had to ride behind him. The boy said he had to carry him very hurt, and I dare say he had got over it yet.

Jimmy, you and BILL had a hard time getting to go with your girls, don't you JIM. Next time I'd let her go by herself. I wouldn't go that far, and then have to come back by myself. His girl said she thought she would have pity on him one time more.

Where, oh! where has the "Pett" gone too?

Mr. Adam Norton contemplates going to Nebraska right soon. SWAN ALICE.

BIG SPRING.

Heed—To-day We're up on our steeds; We're up on our coaches; It's right to be bold.

The punch crop is reported killed.

Mr. George Churchill's little girl, Jane, died since our last report, of pneumonia.

Mr. John Minter, of this neighborhood, died on the 26th inst., with typho malarial fever.

Mr. Walter Kays of Sherman, Texas, is dead on account of relatives. Mr. Kay has been a member of the church.

Miss Lillie Dowd gave a very pleasant social last Saturday night. There was quite a large crowd in attendance. Miss Lillie took great pains to make all her guests have a pleasant time, in which she was remarkably successful. And, by the way, one of the young ladies called a "kid."

A. W. Mooreman has gone to Lexington to attend the commercial college at that place. Our best wishes go with this energetic young man, and may success crown every his effort.

Messrs. Will Mooreman and John Dean, of Rock Lock, spent several days here visiting relatives and friends last week.

Miss Lizzie Rawlings, a charming young lady of Brownsville, has been making several visits to the word "Home."

Mr. G. A. Moulder purchased Mr. T. B. Howard's hotel at this place for $2,300, net $2,000, as stated in our last.

Mr. James L. Talbot and Miss Ida Moulder spent several days last week visiting relatives at Elizabethtown.

Miss Lucy M. Morris, one of our charming and accomplished young ladies, will leave one day this week to visit her sister at Lebanon.

Mr. Bouteille, of Maine, has made several al ready, and is now in the process of the preparation of copies, all of which have attracted marked attention.
